Message from Melissa Gehring

We are pleased to announce that the WIAA has partnered with Scoreflippers Production for the 2024 WIAA State Meet. The sectionals and state meet will therefore be scored using their NSIGHT software as the former GymPro software used in the past is no longer supported or readily available. As part of this agreement in its first year, WIAA member schools will be given year-long usage of the INSIGHT software to use during regular season meets if the school so chooses. More communication on this, and future online training sessions, is forthcoming. Expect emails directly from the WIAA with more information no later than mid-October and more information in the 2023 Rules video.

Elite Tumbling is hosting and Nick Mantz will be going over drills and more

Nick Mantz is owner and founder of Elite Tumbling Factory. He was a competitive gymnast over 11 years through North Shore, Infinite, and Salto Gymnastics Club. He was a regional champion, all around and 3 time state champion on rings. Following early retirement in 2001. Nick then pursued a career as a men's gymnastics judging official at the age of 18 years old. This is when he became the youngest nationally ranked judging official in the state of Wisconsin. By the age of 24, Nick had tested into the USAG International Judges Course at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs and became one of the youngest international judges in the country. Aside from his judging career Nick has been involved and coached at many gymnastics facilities across the state such as M&M, Infinite, LaFleurs, Midwest Twisters, Salto, and Swiss Turners Gymnastics.
